The Historic Grand Prix of Monaco

Last weekend I visited the Historic Grand Prix of Monaco which takes place on the same circuit as the Formula 1 Grand Prix but with the charming old cars that propose a travel back in time.

Organized every two years by the Automobile Club of Monaco, the 2008 edition was a success for the spectators that come more and more each year.

Living the good life in Monte Carlo

The oldest cars were merged into 2 series : before 1947 (C & D period from the FIA) and before 1961 (period E).

The Sports car race was only with cars from before 1953, because the Monaco Grand Prix for sports cars had only one edition in 1952.

My favorites were divided in to two groups, the Formula 1 race for cars from before 1966 (period F) and Formula 1 cars with 3 liter engines that participated in a Grand-Prix before 1979 (period G & H).

MONTE CARLO THIS WEEKEND?

Maybe you will have the privilege to be in Monte Carlo this weekend but still not have decided what to do after the cars has stopped for the day? My suggestion is as always to spend your evenings at Amber Lounge.

Guests include F1 drivers, team principals, team sponsors, international models and celebrities from the worlds of TV, fashion, music, and sport.

Even if all the drink tables has been booked since last year we still have the possibility to help you to experience the worlds greatest party place.

If you are interested, please send a mail ASAP to pialill@tonyring.com
